

David Friedrich Strauss, The Life of Jesus Critically Examined
Translated from the Fourth German edition (1840) by George Eliot

INTRODUCTION.

DEVELOPMENT OF THE MYTHICAL POINT OF VIEW IN RELATION TO THE GOSPEL HISTORIES.

1. Inevitable rise of different modes of explaining sacred histories
2. Different explanations of sacred legends among the Greeks
3. Allegorical interpretations among the Hebrews. Philo
4. Allegorical interpretations among the Christians. Origen
5. Transition to more modern times. Deists and Naturalists of the 17th and 18th centuries. The Wolfenbüttel Fragmentist
6. Natural mode of explanation adopted by the Rationalists. Eichhorn. Paulus
7. Moral interpretation of Kant
8. Rise of the mythical mode of interpreting the sacred history, in reference first to the Old Testament
9. The mythical mode of interpretation in reference to the New Testament
10. The notion of the mythus in its application to sacred histories not clearly apprehended by theologians
11. The application of the notion of the mythus too circumscribed
12. Opposition to the mythical view of the Gospel history
13. The possibility of the existence of mythi in the New Testament considered in reference to external evidences
14. The possibility of mythi in the New Testament considered on internal grounds
15. Definition of the evangelical mythus, and its distinctive characteristics
16. Criteria by which to distinguish the unhistorical in the Gospel narrative

FIRST PART.

HISTORY OF THE BIRTH AND CHILDHOOD OF JESUS.

CHAPTER I.

ANNUNCIATION AND BIRTH OF JOHN THE BAPTIST.

17. Account given by Luke. Immediate supernatural character of the representation
18. Natural explanation of the narrative
19. Mythical view of the narrative in its different stages

CHAPTER II.

DAVIDICAL DESCENT OF JESUS, ACCORDING TO THE GENEALOGICAL TABLES OF MATTHEW AND LUKE.

20. The two genealogies of Jesus considered separately and irrespectively of one another
21. Comparison of the two genealogies. Attempt to reconcile their contradictions.
22. The genealogies unhistorical

CHAPTER III.

ANNOUNCEMENT OF THE CONCEPTION OF JESUS.—ITS SUPERNATURAL CHARACTER.— VISIT OF MARY TO ELIZABETH.

23. Sketch of the different canonical and apocryphal accounts
24. Disagreements of the canonical gospels in relation to the form of the annunciation
25. Import of the angel's message. Fulfilment of the prophecy of Isaiah
26. Jesus begotten of the Holy Ghost. Criticism of the orthodox opinion
27. Retrospect of the genealogies
28. Natural explanation of the history of the conception
29. History of the conception of Jesus viewed as a mythus
30. Relation of Joseph to Mary. Brothers of Jesus
31. Visit of Mary to Elizabeth

CHAPTER IV.

BIRTH AND EARLIEST EVENTS OF THE LIFE OF JESUS.

32. The census
33. Particular circumstances of the birth of Jesus. The circumcision
34. The Magi and their star. The flight into Egypt, and the murder of the children in Bethlehem. Criticism of the supranaturalistic view
35. Attempts at a natural explanation of the history of the Magi. Transition to the mythical explanation
36. The purely mythical explanation of the narrative concerning the Magi, and of the events with which it is connected
37. Chronological relation between the visit of the Magi, together with the flight into Egypt, and the presentation in the temple recorded by Luke
38. The presentation of Jesus in the temple
39. Retrospect. Difference between Matthew and Luke as to the original residence of the parents of Jesus

CHAPTER V.

THE FIRST VISIT TO THE TEMPLE, AND THE EDUCATION OF JESUS.

40. Jesus, when twelve years old, in the temple
41. This narrative also mythical
42. On the external life of Jesus up to the time of his public appearance
43. The intellectual development of Jesus

SECOND PART.

HISTORY OF THE PUBLIC LIFE OF JESUS.

CHAPTER I.

RELATIONS BETWEEN JESUS AND JOHN THE BAPTIST.

44. Chronological relations between John and Jesus
45. Appearance and design of the Baptist. His personal relations with Jesus
46. Was Jesus acknowledged by John as the Messiah ? and in what sense ?

47. Opinion of the evangelists and of Jesus concerning the Baptist, with his own judgment of himself. Result of the inquiry into the relationship between these two individuals
48. The execution of John the Baptist

CHAPTER II.

BAPTISM AND TEMPTATION OF JESUS.

49. Why did Jesus receive baptism from John?
50. The scene at the baptism of Jesus considered as supernatural, and as natural
51. An attempt at a criticism and mythical interpretation of the narratives
52. Relation of the supernatural at the baptism of Jesus to the supernatural in his
53. Place and time of the temptation of Jesus. Divergencies of the evangelists on this subject
54. The history of the temptation conceived in the sense of the evangelists
55. The temptation considered as a natural occurrence either internal or external; and also as a parable
56. The history of the temptation as a mythus

CHAPTER III.

LOCALITY AND CHRONOLOGY OF THE PUBLIC LIFE OF JESUS,

57. Difference between the synoptical writers and John, as to the customary scene of the ministry of Jesus
58. The residence of Jesus at Capernaum
59. Divergencies of the Evangelists as to the chronology of the life of Jesus. Duration of his public ministry
60. The attempts at a chronological arrangement of the particular events in the public life of Jesus

CHAPTER IV.

JESUS AS THE MESSIAH.

61. Jesus, the Son of Man
62. How soon did Jesus conceive himself to be the Messiah, and find reco: such from others ?
63. Jesus, the Son of God
64. The divine mission and authority of Jesus. His pre-existence
65. The messianic plan of Jesus. Indications of a political element
66. Data for the pure spirituality of the messianic plan of Jesus.
67. The relation of Jesus to the Mosaic law
68. Scope of the messianic plan of Jesus. Relation to the Gentiles.
69. Relation of the messianic plan of Jesus to the Samaritans. His interview with the woman of Samaria

CHAPTER V.

THE DISCIPLES OF JESUS.

70. Calling of the first companions of Jesus. Difference between the first two Evangelists and the fourth

71. Peter's draught of fishes
72. Calling of Matthew. Connexion of Jesus with the publicans
73. The twelve apostles
74. The twelve considered individually. The three or four most confidential disciples of Jesus
75. The rest of the twelve, and the seventy disciples

CHAPTER VI.

THE DISCOURSES OF JESUS IN THE THREE FIRST GOSPELS.

76. The Sermon on the Mount
77. Instructions to the twelve. Lamentations over the Galilean cities. Joy over the calling of the simple
78. The parables
79. Miscellaneous instructions and controversies of Jesus

CHAPTER VII.

DISCOURSES OF JESUS IN THE FOURTH GOSPEL.

80. Conversation of Jesus with Nicodemus
81. The discourses of Jesus, John v.-xii
82. Isolated maxims of Jesus, common to the fourth gospel and the synoptical ones .
83. The modern discussions on the authenticity of the discourses in the Gospel of John.
Result

CHAPTER VIII.

EVENTS IN THE PUBLIC LIFE OF JESUS, EXCLUSIVE OF THE MIRACLES.

84. General comparison of the manner of narration that distinguishes the several Evangelists
85. Isolated groups of anecdotes. Imputation of a league with Beelzebub, and demand of a sign
86. Visit of the mother and brethren of Jesus. The woman who pronounces the mother of Jesus blessed
87. Contentions for pre-eminence among the disciples. The love of Jesus for children
88. The purification of the temple
89. Narratives of the anointing of Jesus by a woman
90. The narratives of the woman taken in adultery, and of Mary and Martha

CHAPTER IX.

MIRACLES OF JESUS.

91. Jesus considered as a worker of miracles
92. The demoniacs, considered generally
93. Cases of the expulsion of demons by Jesus, considered singly
94. Cures of lepers
95. Cures of the blind
96. Cures of paralytics. Did Jesus regard diseases as punishments ?
97. Involuntary cures
98. Cures at a distance

- 99. Cures on the sabbath
- 100. Resuscitations of the dead
- 101. Anecdotes having relation to the sea
- 102. The miraculous multiplication of the loaves and fishes
- 103. Jesus turns water into wine
- 104. Jesus curses a barren fig-tree

CHAPTER X.

THE TRANSFIGURATION OF JESUS, AND HIS LAST JOURNEY TO JERUSALEM,

- 105. The transfiguration of Jesus considered as a miraculous external event
- 106. The natural explanation of the narrative in various forms
- 107. The history of the transfiguration considered as a mythus
- 108. Diverging accounts concerning the last journey of Jesus to Jerusalem
- 109. Divergencies of the gospels, in relation to the point from which Jesus made his entrance into Jerusalem
- 110. More particular circumstances of the entrance. Its object and historical reality

THIRD PART.

HISTORY OF THE PASSION, DEATH, AND RESURRECTION OF JESUS.

CHAPTER I.

RELATION OF JESUS TO THE IDEA OF A SUFFERING AND DYING MESSIAH ; HIS DISCOURSES ON HIS DEATH, RESURRECTION, AND SECOND ADVENT.

- § 111. Did Jesus in precise terms predict his passion and death ?
- 112. The predictions of Jesus concerning his death in general; their relation to the Jewish idea of the Messiah; declarations of Jesus concerning the object and effects of his death
- 113. Precise declarations of Jesus concerning his future resurrection
- 114. Figurative discourses, in which Jesus is supposed to have announced his resurrection
- 115. The discourses of Jesus on his second advent. Criticism of the different interpretations
- 116. Origin of the discourses on the second advent

CHAPTER II.

MACHINATIONS OF THE ENEMIES OF JESUS ; TREACHERY OF JUDAS ; LAST SUPPER WITH THE DISCIPLES.

- 117. Development of the relation of Jesus to his enemies
- 118. Jesus and his betrayer
- 119. Different opinions concerning the character of Judas, and the motives of his treachery
- 120. Preparation for the passover
- 121. Divergent statements respecting the time of the last supper
- 122. Divergencies in relation to the occurrences at the last meal of Jesus

- 123. Announcement of the betrayal and the denial
- 124. The institution of the Lord's supper

CHAPTER III.

RETIREMENT TO THE MOUNT OF OLIVES, ARREST, TRIAL, CONDEMNATION, AND CRUCIFIXION OF JESUS.

- 125. Agony of Jesus in the garden
- 126. Relation of the fourth gospel to the events in Gethsemane. The farewell discourses in John, and the scene following the announcement of the Greeks
- 127. Arrest of Jesus
- 128. Examination of Jesus before the high priest
- 129. The denial by Peter
- 130. The death of the betrayer
- 131. Jesus before Pilate and Herod
- 132. The crucifixion

CHAPTER IV.

DEATH AND RESURRECTION OF JESUS.

- 133. Prodiges attendant on the death of Jesus
- 134. The wound by a spear in the side of Jesus
- 135. Burial of Jesus
- 136. The watch at the grave of Jesus
- 137. First tidings of the resurrection
- 138. Appearances of the risen Jesus in Galilee and in Judea, including those mentioned by Paul and by apocryphal writings
- 139. Quality of the body and life of Jesus after the resurrection
- 140. Debates concerning the reality of the death and resurrection of Jesus

CHAPTER V.

THE ASCENSION.

- 141. The last commands and promises of Jesus
- 142. The so-called ascension considered as a supernatural and as a natural event
- 143. Insufficiency of the narratives of the ascension. Mythical conception of those narratives

CONCLUDING DISSERTATION.

THE DOGMATIC IMPORT OF THE LIFE OF JESUS.

- 144. Necessary transition from criticism to dogma
- 145. The Christology of the orthodox system
- 146. Objections to the Christology of the church
- 147. The Christology of rationalism
- 148. The eclectic Christology of Schleiermacher
- 149. Christology interpreted symbolically. Kant. De Wette
- 150. The speculative Christology
- 151. Last dilemma
- 152. Relation of the critical and speculative theology to the church